

Table with multiple columns containing property details such as owner names, addresses, parcel numbers, acreages, and sale prices. The table is organized into several vertical sections, each containing a list of property records.